Special Collections and Library Summer 2013 Undergraduate/Graduate Internship

The Kentucky Historical Society is seeking unpaid interns to assist on different types of digital projects in order to help the Special Collections and Library staff provide better access to collections. Graduate and undergraduate students with an interest in the use of technology in library and museum work will be considered. Must have experience with digital media (if you own a smartphone, this job is for you!). An interest in KHS's mission and a willingness to learn more about it are necessary.

Student interns will scan photographs from historic collections, create descriptive information (metadata) to help researchers find these images, and put them on the web for easier public access.

Successful interns will gain work experience in a unique special collection library setting and increase their knowledge of how a library uses digital projects to reach and assist users.

To apply for this position email application and resume to phyllis.gilman@ky.gov. Application is available at www.history.ky.gov. No phone calls please. Equal Opportunity Employer M/F/D. Application deadline is April 29, 2013.

The Kentucky Historical Society (KHS) is a state agency and membership organization that is fully accredited by the American Association of Museums. The KHS mission is to engage people in the exploration of the commonwealth's diverse heritage by providing connections to the past, perspective on the present and inspiration for the future.
